

Fresh finds

From beach-inspired bed frames to festival-snack side tables, these colourful finds bring joyful destinations home.

Find more residential products: selector.com and productnews.com.au

01

02

03

04

05

01 Ease portable lamps by Muuto

Ease transforms the traditional table lamp into a portable size suited to travel. It offers a high-quality dimmable light with three levels, striking a balance between atmosphere and function. A slightly flared bottom makes the piece easier to move between locations.

muuto.com

02 Holotype series by Refractory

Handcrafted from solid oak, Holotype by US studio Refractory comprises a lounge and dining chair characterized by substantial volumes and robust planes. The dining chairs' bronze elements have been cast from a woven arrangement of porcupine quills.

refractory.studio

03 Porteño Tubo chair by Pampa

Influenced by the city of Buenos Aires, Porteño Tubo contrasts soft, circular shapes with sturdy materials to show the simple beauty of both. The chair was designed for Pampa by Argentinian Agostina Branchi and is made from powdercoated tubular steel.

pampa.com.au

04 Grounding collection from Designer Rugs

Comprising three hand-tufted rugs and one runner, the Grounding collection – designed in collaboration with Bernabei Freeman – is inspired by the textures of nature. Each New Zealand wool rug can be custom sized, shaped and coloured for residential interiors.

designerrugs.com.au

05 Onda collections by Greg Natale

Onda is a series of stone pieces designed by Greg Natale and launched at Maison et Objet 2023. Tactile and sculptural, the collection of bowls, vases and vessels features Foresta green marble and white and red travertine with smooth, undulating surfaces.

gregnatale.com

06 Real Majik by Tappeti × YSG

YSG has collaborated with Tappeti to release a range of 12 rugs. Raised details, tassels, orderly patterns and organic shapes coalesce in this vivid collection, inspired by Yasmine Ghoniem's Egyptian heritage and belief in the power of magic. Photograph: Anson Smart.

tappeti.com.au

09 Jäger lounge table from Menu

Mogens Lassen designed Jäger in 1941, inspired by the folding stools and beds in Tutankhamen's tomb. The piece was never put into production, but Menu has launched it after discovering archival drawings. The elegant piece is available in solid oak or walnut.

menuspace.com

07 Kun Design collection from Domo

Kun Design's bright, playful Mooncake aluminium side table is shaped like the eponymous Mid-Autumn Festival snack. Available in four earth-toned powdercoats, Mooncake is part of Kun's outdoor furniture and accessories collection.

domo.com.au

10 Reverie collection by Fleur Studios

The Bombola side table is part of a 25-piece range from Queensland-based Fleur Studios called Reverie. The simple form comprises a circular table top and three monolithic columns. The polished finish and pared-back form highlights the stone's natural grain.

fleurstudios.com.au

08 Pier range by Anaca

Melbourne-based Anaca's Pier bed (pictured), dining table and coffee table evoke pilotis, structures that connect sea and solid ground. Rounded edges soften the bed's profile, as do sculptural solid timber pillars that create a feel of the frame "floating" above the bedroom floor.

anacastudio.com.au

11

12

13

14

15

11 Marlon by Dooq Details

Strong geometric forms and soft curves come together in the Marlon seating collection, designed by Pietro Franceschini for Dooq. Oversized legs and velvet upholstery ensure the chairs, ottomans and bench seats are simultaneously edgy and elegant.
dooqdetails.com

12 New Volumes Collection 02 by Artedomus

The second iteration of Artedomus's New Volumes series explores the design potential of terracotta. The eight-piece collection includes furniture, lighting and homewares – among them, the Echo side and coffee tables and the Cove chair designed by Tom Coward (pictured).
artedomus.com

13 Helle Mardahl tableware from In Good Company

Danish design brand Helle Mardahl was inspired by Alice in Wonderland in the design of this fantastical mouth-blown glass collection. Delectable, candy-inspired colours and fluid forms set the scene for decadent dining.
ingoodcompany.com.au

14 Ripple Mirror by Zachary Frankel

A discarded piece of timber from an earlier experiment for his X Chair was the starting point for this bold and playful mirror by Melbourne designer Zachary Frankel. A high-gloss paint finish in red, blue, green or apricot completes the distinctive design.
zacharyfrankel.com

15 Joe collection from MCM House

Australian furniture brand MCM House has added a new finish to its Joe seating collection: brushed linen in five neutral colourways. The strong weave offers durability and comfort, and covers can be easily removed, washed and replaced.
mcmhouse.com